TRUENO

Job Description

With our vision, we, at Trueno, have laid down our foundation as an electric vehicle startup to take a leap into the future. We are an early stage startup based out of Mumbai with an aim to revolutionize the way people own, travel and share vehicles, solve their mobility issues and provide a safest personalized mode of commute by using technology in transforming our lives.

We would be operating in the micro mobility space and R&D of next gen future technologies vehicles.

We are looking for people with a vibrant, visionary and versatile profile who are willing to take the plunge to help the company achieve its vision and contribute towards sustainable future by making our country a better place to live, walk and breathe.

Job Role: Frontend mobile application developer

Joining: Immediately, would be a remote internship.

Duration: 3 months. The candidates would also be offered PPO basis the performance.

Eligibility criterion:

1. Well versed with Reactnative
2. Well versed with Redux

Roles and Responsibilities:

1. Development of mobile applications according to requirement
2. Progress report on development practices
3. Collaborating with different team roles for inputs

Contact details
Somil Jain
+91 7718832558
somil.jain.17@gmail.com